CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

2010 has been one of great progress for the Guild with the appointment of Dean Bradley and Lu Budden of Convention Management Services Ltd as events organisers for Beervana and the Awards night. They are very experienced event organisers who have excellent knowledge of the venues and have shown considerable initiative.

We were asked by the organisers of the LiquorLand Beer Festival to organise a Brewers Guild Food and Beer matching Showcase at their event, and with considerable assistance from our brethren at SOBA we attended the Auckland Beer Festival. We had over 150 people crowded in to view our brewers talking about their beers. We sold a lot of beer through the stall and educated people about beer and our membership. With 8000 people in attendance it was a great success for beer. We then moved to Wellington on the 6th March, where a crowd of 6000 attended.

In May, as part of the Brewers Guild Export Program, we went to Melbourne for the Beer and Brewer Expo 21st-22nd. We arranged with Melbourne's iconic beer hotel Young & Jackson's for it to be a base for Kiwi brewers during the week. On Tuesday 18th May we had a beer tasting for KEA Melbourne (Kiwi Expats organisation) called "Speed-dating with Brewers" where 10 tables of 10 got 10 minutes with each brewer. On the 19th May we had a trade only event with beer and food matching. Our team of 11 breweries presented beer matched with New Zealand themed food cooked by Y&J's chef. This gave a chance for our brewers to host their existing clients and find new ones as we showcased the best of Aotearoa. This was done in conjunction with NZTE and a big thank you to Megan Hurnard and Ruth McDavitt. Guild members had considerable success at the AIBA Beer awards this year.

During 2009 The Law Commission undertook a comprehensive review of the Sale of Liquor in New Zealand. Ralph Bungard presented submissions on behalf of the Guild on matters of interest to the Guild. These included the Guild's social policy "SAFE, SENSIBLE, and SOCIAL: Social Alcohol Policy of the Brewers Guild of New Zealand". The Law Commission presented its report 'Alcohol in our lives' to the Government in May.

We have gone into a partnership with Massey University to have our judging held at the Massey Campus in Wellington. Massey will provide stewards and the head steward Heather Matthews. With Massey providing education for our industry it gives the Guild great pleasure to work with them on our judging process. Once again our Head Judge is Dave Logsdon a long term and firm friend of New Zealand beer.

This year we welcome back Paul Mercurio as our Master of Ceremonies and as a judge.

It is great to have a passionate beer lover of Paul's stature being a regular at our event. On top of that we have Sam Calagione visiting us in NZ for 10 days and he is attending all of BrewNZ and Beervana's events. He has already created a level of media attention we could have only dreamed about. We have Discovery Channel filming all aspects of Beervana and they will be interviewing NZ brewers for their show "Brewed" which is a six-part documentary on Craft Brewing Worldwide. There will be a whole episode on NZ which will be shown in January 2011. We also have Kirrily Waldhorn the Beer Diva attending and running our Women and Beer seminars.

BrewNZ awards has grown to 450 entries this year up from 348 in 2009, this is due to us putting on a credible well judged event. Many thanks to Dave Logsdon and his team for putting us firmly on the World map for competitions. I wish all the entrants good luck at the 2010 awards.

David Cryer
Chairman of the
Brewers Guild of New Zealand
